This is an Episode 2 update, so you will need to already own the original game. The update is free and you can install it directly from the Steam client. Once you install this update, you will be able to play Gal*Gun 2 with motion controllers. This is a pretty long game, but if you need more levels, I would recommend adding this as a save game. Out of This World - The game from Supercell puts you in the role of an astronaut who is lost in space. You must collect resources in order to repair your ship. The game includes a few different modes including story, survival and time attack. No Time to Explain - VR title No Time to Explain offers a fun story driven game that puts you in the role of an alien that just landed on earth and must communicate with humans. The game is free and you can download it from the Oculus VR and Steam stores. Pulsar Battle Arena - Battlerite is a new game from Stunlock Studios and other top developers, and it is currently in open beta. The game puts you in the role of a rookie warrior who must fight against strong enemies and bosses, as well as each other. The game is free to play and it includes a variety of options, including a free trial version that you can play for a limited amount of time. Battlerite will be available on the Oculus Rift and the HTC Vive. RECOIL - Recoil is a futuristic action shooter game that is compatible with the Oculus Rift. It is a game that puts you in the role of a special operative who is sent on missions in order to retrieve valuable equipment. You must fight off waves of enemies and try to complete all of your objectives as quickly as you can. Unspoken - Soma is a new adventure game that allows you to explore a creepy maze that is under the control of someone else. As the game progresses, you will be able to unravel the mysteries of this maze. The game is free and it is also available for both the Oculus Rift and HTC Vive. Virtual Reality vs. Traditional Gaming - VR development vs. traditional gaming is an interesting subject. Traditional gaming is a very different experience than when you play it in VR. VR is a new medium for entertainment and you must use that medium in the correct way. The experience is definitely not for everyone, but it does allow you to experience new things and new things can only be a good thing. Veterans Corner Oculus Rift vs 82157476af
