9. Accept the Fear

Do you fear to speak in public and do presentations? Who doesn't? Instead of thinking of as an unpleasant chore, try to consider it an opportunity to engage with people and share your knowledge. Anyway, focusing on your fears can only make them worse. Focus instead on what you have to say, and how important it is for your audience to know about it. How it can help them in their daily programmer life.

Success
isn't about how much money you make;
it's about the difference you make
in people's lives.

— Michelle Obama
First Lady of The United States
